Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Territory of Arizona, the Council concurring, That Andrew Johnson, President of the United States of America, in his policy of reconstruction of the Union, so manfully and persistently contended for, against the combined elements of Abolitionism, Fanaticism and Radicalism, is by the people of this Territory, and should be by all honest and correct thinking people, upheld and sustained, and that the general welfare, and in fact, the salvation of our common country, in harmony with the principles inculcated by our forefathers demand that we should condemn by actions that cannot be mistaken, as well as by language that cannot be misunderstood, the unwarrantable attempts of a usurping sectional Congress, to overthrow the Republican institutions under which we have been reared and educated, and erect in their stead, the engines of tyranny, and despotism, thus destroying the vital principles of liberty and independence upon the American continent.

Mr. Davis offered the following amendment to the resolution, and moved its adoption:

Whereas, We believe the prosperity of the United States, and happiness of the people, depends on the harmony and brotherhood of Americans north and south, and,

Whereas, As in war we believed in making the most vigorous war as the most merciful, so in peace we believe in making the most profound discountenancing dissension, and refraining from crimination and recrimination, which only tend to keep alive the expiring embers of our natural hate engendered by the late civil war; therefore,

Be it resolved by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Arizona, That we will refrain from giving encouragement to either President or Congress, lest they interpret it as an endorsement of their extreme views, which we depreciate alike in one and the other.

Resolved, That we hope that the next Congress will fraternize and harmonize all discordant elements, that the President will give them in that his hearty co-opperation.

Resolved, That the future safety of the nation demands that an example be made of Jefferson Davis, by his paying the penalty of treason, that the next step to securing the stability and strength of our Government is by winning the love of all its subjects, and to that end, trust that Congress will remove all restraint over all the insurgent states not absolutely necessary to good order, and the safety of the Government, restoring them as nearly as possible, with the new condition of affairs, to their old relations with the Union.

Resolved, That it is the religious duty of the Government to care for the orphans and widows created by the war, and to provide for the life comfort of the crippoled heroes who so nobly battled for the life of their countries nationality.

TERRITORY OF ARIZONA,
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR,
PRESCOTT, Nov. 5, 1866.

Hon. Granville H. Oury, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Sir:—I return for correction, the House memorial and joint resolution, regarding an increase in the jurisdiction of justices of the peace. As now worded it prays for an alteration in the organic act of Arizona, which has no allusion watever to justices, or their jurisdiction. The organic act of New Mexico is evidently intended, that having been extended over this Territory by Congress, and containing a reference to the subject in question.

RICHARD C. MCCORMICK.

TERRITORY OF ARIZONA,
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR,
PRESCOTT, Nov. 5, 1866.

Hon. Granville H. Oury, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Sir:—I return without my signature "An act providing compensation for inspectors, judges and clerks of elections." I find that for the number of precincts already established in the Territory this bill will require an annual expenditure of over five hundred dollars. Hitherto it has not been difficult to find persons willing to act as inspectors, judges and clerks, without compensation, and I apprehend no difficulty in securing them in the future. While the Territory [illegible] and the people demand retrenchment [illegible] favor any outlay that is not absolutely necessary, however reasonable it may [illegible]

I also withhold my approval [illegible] amendatory of chapter [illegible] license tax," which provides for a [illegible] of the tax now paid by pedlars. This [illegible] not onerous, and at this time the Territory is in need of all the revenue from that source it can properly secure. Moreover, to reduce the tax upon pedlars who have but a temporary interest in the country, would seem to be unfair, if not unjust, to the traders permanently located here, and from whom a large tax is exacted.

RICHARD C. MCCORMICK.

Mr. Piatt, chairman of select committee to whom was referred C. M. No. 1, concerning Southern Pacific Railroad, made the following report:

Your select committee to whom was referred C. M. No. 1, have by examination of the act of Congress approved July 27, 1866, incorporating the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company, found that large subsidys of lands have already been granted by Congress to aid in the construction of said road, that it is evident that the memorial was drawn in ignorance of the fact that the road has already been located, and of the further fact that land had already been granted to such road. Therefore your committee deem the memorial useless, and report it back recommending its indefinite postponement.

Mr. Barnett, from the same committee, made the following report:

As a member of the select committee to whom was referred C. M. No. 1, concerning appropriation for a central Railroad, beg leave to submit a minority report. It is my opinion that the interest of the interior of this Territory urge upon this Legislative Assembly that the memorial be passed, and therefore he asks that this his minority report be considered by the House.

Mr. Osborn moved to lay the minority report on the table.

Motion lost.

Mr. Osborn moved that further consideration of the memorial be indefinitely postponed.

Motion lost.

Mr. Davis moved that the report of the committee be adopted.
